Is this petition valid? How are petition signatures validated?

Online petitions without some form of good validation tend to be worthless.

Unlike many other online petitions, This petition is driven by the MBC Etrigger develop by MacBusiness Consulting that maintains one authoritative master copy of your petition and audits all submissions.

- * Each approved submission is assigned a unique confirmation number.
- * Each signature, phone number and email address is logged for possible explicit or statistical validation.
- * Duplicate names/Email addresses are rejected by the system.
- * Your Email address will not be displayed online or submitted on the final petition report.
- * Your Email address will be kept confidential by KaimukiHawaii.com and never be shared with outside entities.
- * Your phone number will not be displayed online but will be on final petition report. Required to make the petition more legitimate.
- * Each person who signs is automatically sent a confirming email message, minimizing bogus Email addresses.
- * Validation is a somewhat separate issue from delivery. Delivery of the petition will not include the email addresses of petition signers due to privacy issue but we do list the phone number to make the submitted petition more legitimate.
- * If deeper validation of a petition is really called for, the MBC Etrigger has the technical ability to perform a statistical validation by contacting a sampling of signers directly via the email addresses we have privately archived.

Ensuring identity without invading privacy is a challenge. We don't see that a perfect solution is currently available but want to make sure our petitions can gain the respect necessary to achieve its goal.

There is not yet any widespread foolproof system for establishing online identity. An email address is not enough to establish identity by itself, but it is substantially more than just a name, and it provides a link back to a person for (the potential of) confirming identity.

STOP closing schools. Cut the top heavy administrative "staff" in the DOE. AUWE. History and our keikis needs mean nothing to pencil pushers looking to save their OWN jobs and pensions. For years it has been said that smaller classes are necessary to increase the opportunity for the best environment for optimum learning. Don't close Queen Lili'??uokalani School. Our students deserve better.			We too are fighting to save our Haleiwa Elementary School, final decision 10/7/2010@Kailua High School.

48 Cham Wadu		4520	Queen Liliuokalani is a historically important school. More importantly, the school offers a peaceful and close environment for those students that have special needs. Lastly, the closure of the school would negatively impact the economic and social well being of the Kaimuki Business District.

Hawaii used to have a 100% literacy rate, what do we have now? Failing youth, increased inmates, drug use and loss of values...If you shut down the school named after the beloved Queen, then tear down the freeway name after her too...Hewa!
Please don't close the doors to the school and hurt the many children and their parents. There are so many other government expenses that can be "reduced" which will save this school as well as others that help the future of our aina.			132 Jeff Gere		7611

I am a Lilioukalani alumni and have been a middle and high school public school science teacher in both California and Hawaii for the last 23 years! I contribute a lot of my determination and commitment to public school to the strong foundation of my first school, a neighborhood school with a strong sense of what a learning community should be. Turning a school classrooms into offices rarely build a strong learning community; it just builds bureaucracy.

Liliuokalani is an educational treasure for the community of Kaimuki and Wilhelmina. The education received in the small classroom settings is ideal, and the school's record of awards as an outstanding Elementary School speak for itself. I plan to have children in the next 5 years who will be old enough to attend the school. I really hope that they (like me) get that opportunity. Mahalo.			What we need is to know what other plans have C&C considered as an alternative..... have they been creative at all in their looking at alternatives.
